than rehasing these well-told tales was the fact that for nearly 500 years, European island off the coast of Ireland called Brazil.

Everyone seemed to know of Brazil, but nobody could find it. In 1480, an Newfoundland. Presuming success, he called it Brazil, adding another few hundred years of cartographic confusion as to Brazil's whereabouts.

From a paranoid desire to make order out of chaos or a brave embrace of entropy, the exhibition focuses on artists with inventive practices of collecting, cataloging and presenting masses of things and information.

For modernism and post-, photography cleared the way to a revelation in archiving and art making. A way for a generation of great indexers and amassers, keepers of records, indexers and documenters of bodies, time and space, Bernd and Hilla Becher. With an idiosyncratic impulse and an obsessive focus, these artists were able to articulate the span of a lifetime, the breadth of a subject, or the geography of a planet. These artists created compulsively concise archives of the visible and experiential world, with intention, with humor, with obsession with conscientiousness: collections of all the cities in Reykjavik, paintings to mark the passing of time, in a simple one-to-one ratio, encapsulating The Visible World.
The younger artists presented in Do You Like Stuff? deal with a growing whole that

The excitement which engulfed the city during the Olympic Games had finally died down, the anomalous and disturbing outbreak of syphilis in upper-middle-class white teenagers in Rockdale County had been contained, and the whole metropolitan area was settling in for what would be the calm after the storm, the general malaise which inevitably follows great events, like the discovery of a dormant star on the edge of the Milky Way. Like Douglas Huebler, who set out to photographically document the existence of everyone alive with his Variable Piece No. 70 of 1971, the artists in Do You Like Stuff? embrace the impossible. Acknowledging the tradition of representing "an everything," the work in this exhibition re-thinks and re-challenges the impossibility of carving a concise, poetic index from today's overwhelming mass of information. The work itself speaks to a moment in our culture where information is propagating without an efficient mechanism for maintaining order. Artists face this pandemonium, dive in, race along the accelerating limit, inspect arcane corners, embrace proliferating refuse, create new systems and orders.

Finally!
I have always worried about the size of my penis. When I have sex, even though she says that the sex is good, I know that what she really wants is an extra inch! 3 months ago I found The Extender. I just put it on whilst I'm driving the car and when I'm sleeping. It stays hidden under my clothes and it is really surprisingly comfortable and soft. I could tell that my penis was getting longer and heavier, but I thought that when I took it back off I would shrink back to original size. I was really surprised! I have been 4.5" long since adolescence When I took off The Extender I was measuring 6.5" After not wearing the extender for a week, I am still 6" long! The lengthening is permanent! I could not believe the results of this device. I am back to wearing it again and I'm still getting larger! My girlfriend says it is the best product I've ever bought, and she ALWAYS reminds me to put it on if I forget! Take a peek... We know it works. There's a total guarantee with it, too. If you are not completely satisfied with your length gain and comfort you get your money back. Every penny. No-one sends them back!The Extender correct the curve of the penis too, straightening out sharp bends as new cells grow!

I have been 4.5" long since adolescence After reading this, I headed home; but first passed by the library gallery. They had an exhibit up called 'Frozen Ocean: Search for the Northwest Passage', which according to the blurb was an exhibition of materials from the Toronto Public Library's Special Collection of books, maps, and prints dating from 1578 to 1907 that documented 300 years of Arctic exploration. I had a look at one of the exhibition's maps of the North Atlantic, engraved and published by Hessel Gerritsz in 1613, and sure enough, half way between Ireland and Iceland, there was a little round island labeled 'Bris'. When I took off The Extender I was measuring 6.5".After not wearing the extender for a week, I am still 6" long!

Undaria pinnatifida is described as an opportunistic seaweed able to rapidly colonise new or disturbed substrata and artificial floating structures. It occurs in dense, vigorous stands on benthic shores, forming thick canopy over the biota in a wide range of shores varying in exposure, from low tide level down to 15 m in clear waters.
Undaria inhabits cold temperate coastal areas and grows best in waters below 12° C. Sporophytes are reported to degrade at temperatures above 20° C and die at temperatures greater than 23° C. Undaria pinnatifida grows in a wide range of wave exposures from sheltered marinas to the open coast, and extends vertically from the low intertidal to 18 m depth (although it is most common between 1 and 3 m depth). It tolerates a wide range of irradiance from full sunlight to very low light levels, but is unlikely to invade areas with a high fresh water input.
Undaria can grow on any hard surface including artificial substrates such as rope, pylons, buoys, the hulls of vessels, bottles, floating pontoons and plastic. On natural substrates, undaria inhabits stable rocky reefs, mobile cobble habitats, mudstone, and in primarily soft sediment habitats attaches to hard surfaces such as shell. It can also grow on seagrass (while a small sporophyte), the shells of abalone and bivalves, invertebrates and epiphytically on other seaweeds Hello cutie! That's not a lie, it's a terminological inexactitude. Also, a tactical misrepresentation. Man is ultimately not molded or shaped into humanness (.) The environment does not give him potentialities and capacities; he has them in inchoate or embryonic form, just exactly as he has embryonic arms and legs. And creativeness, spontaneity, selfhood, authenticity, caring for others, being able to love, yearning for truth are embryonic potentialities belonging to his species - membership just as much as are his arms and legs, brain and eyes.. As long as I have a want, I have a reason for living. Satisfaction is death. Forgive yourself for your faults and your mistakes and move on., but in the dialectic between the two.

The last item cannot really even be said to be known with certainty, but it is clear that if not a Moscovy insider, Hudson did enter this trading enterprise as an apprentice and advanced to command rank over time. Wink-wink Don't look a Gift Horse in the Mouth Famous remarks are very seldom quoted correctly. By 1607, Hudson was captaining ships and, like everyone else in those days, the Muscovy Company was looking for a Northern Passage to India. They sent Hudson out on a ship named Half Moon with strict orders to head NNE past Nova Zembla, but at some point it appears a recalcitrant crew convinced Hudson to head west, a plan to which Hudson was secretly quite receptive.

eric much regards Dear Friend, I write you in good faith, hoping that you will treat this letter as a desperate search for assistance in a matter that shall benefit both of us. A random search based on your locality produced your name and address. Please I apologise for this medium of contact as it appears the only definate way i can have assistance with this matter. I am Eric a property Manager to a deceased Immigrant property magnate who was based in the U.K., also referred to as my client. On July, 2000, my client, his wife and their two Children died in the Air France concord plane crash bound for New York in their plan for a world cruise, I have been managing his properties here in the U.K. and some others which he put out for sale. The properties which have long been put out on sale have now been paid for and now the money paid has long been deposited into his local bank account here. I have contacted you to assist in repatriating the money and estate left behind by my client before they get confiscated or declared unserviceable by his bank. Particularly, the bank has issued me with a notice to provide any of his next of kin or have the account confiscated within a short period of time. We sought to assess whether GFS, a proprietary preparation of Tasmanian Undaria pinnatifida, has effects on healing or re-emergence of Herpetic infections, and additionally, to assess effects of GFS in vitro. My late client has an account valued at 30 Million United States Dollars Only. Since I have been unsuccessful in locating any of my clients relatives for some time now and with no one coming forward since my clients passing on, and with the bank now giving me a deadline, I now seek your consent to present you as the next of kin to my deceased client, so that the proceeds of his account valued at 30 Million United States Dollars Only can be paid to you. Undaria is the most commonly eaten seaweed in Japan, and contains sulphated polyanions and other components with potential anti-viral activity. Herpes simplex virus type 1 (HSV-1) infections have lower reactivation rates and Herpes type 2 (HSV-2) infections have lower incidence in Japan than in the west. This I intend we share amongst ourselves in the ratio of 50% to me and 40% for you while the balance 10% we shall use for settling any miscellaneous expenses that might arise. I have all the necessary information that can be used to back up any Claim that we may make and I can assure you that you shall be paid this amount as the next of kin to my late client. All I require is your honest co-operation to enable us see this deal through. I guarantee that this will be executed under a legitimate arrangement that will protect you from any breach of the law. Trust me as his Manager of his Estates, as i have all the needed information, that this is a risk-free relationship. Please get in touch with me if you are interested in helping me, so that we can discuss and i can send to you additional details. Best regards, Eric Coker Bongani As result of war Hello. I am Coker ,a soldier from Liberia,currently living in a refugee camp in Nigeria as a result of war that happened in my country Liberia that claimed the lifes of my entire family and two of my colleagues that worked together with me in the mining company i worked. Paul Lester Wiener, city planner and architect, died on November 16 at the age of 72, while vacationing in Munich. Mr. Wiener, an architectural graduate of the Royal Academy of Vienna with post-graduate work at Kunstgewerbe Academy, Berlin, was a planner in many cities in Brazil, Colombia, Cuba, and Peru. He was the co-founder of Contemporaria, International Art Service, with Bruno Paul and other internationally known architects and artists in 1927, and was co-founder with Jose Luis Sert of Town Planning Associates, New York. Since 1965, before the advent of the war,we made 5.8million U.S. Dollars from sales of Gold and Diamond.This money was packaged in trunk boxes and lodged in a security company in Europe, and i declared the content inside to be Gold bars. Now,the security company believes that what I deposited with them was Gold Bars.In my search for a God fearing, kind and honest person, I then came across your contact on the Internet as I was browsing in the refugee camp.I therefore decided to seek your immediate and kind assistance to help me out from this predicament as long i am still in the refuge camp i am "handicap" i.e, i have nothing on me right now as it was a Nigeria plane that enlified us from Liberia in the course of the tough war that has been on for about 13years. I therefore need your assistance to help claim the funds on my behalf. I have notified the Security Company where I deposited the trunk boxes that contained the funds, that someone will be coming to claim the trunk boxes on my behalf, of which they accepted.If you are ready to help me out from this problem, i will send to you a certificate of deposit that will enable you claim the funds on my behalf. Mr. Wiener had been Adjunct Professor of Urban Planning in the School of Architecture at Colombia University, where he directed a master plan for Nassau and the Island of New Providence in the Bahamas (April 1967, page 36). Mr. Wiener was a member of the American Society of Planning Officials, Pan American Society, and Congress Internationale d'Architecture Moderne, and an affiliate member of the American Institute of Planners. You should also forward to me your telephone and fax numbers for easy communication. Your prompt response will be highly appreciated. Thanks for your co-operation, Coker Bongani

Lightning killed a Boy Scout leader and a teenage Scout as their troop scrambled for shelter during a storm in Sequoia National Park, authorities said Friday. The lightning strike, which occurred late Thursday afternoon in the park's rugged backcountry, mortally injured 13-year-old Ryan Collins, who was kept on a ventilator for a time so that his organs could be donated, in compliance with a wish he had expressed to his parents. Ryan died Friday night at University Medical Center in Fresno, a hospital spokeswoman said. A second adult troop leader and five other teenage Scouts suffered injuries, officials said. Ryan was kept alive by fellow Scouts, who administered CPR to him and others for an hour until helicopters arrived, according to relatives and a National Park Service spokesperson. The incident left residents in the troop's Napa Valley hometown of St. Helena reeling, and it coincided with a time of grieving for many Scouts nationally. On Monday, four adult Scout leaders from Alaska were electrocuted while setting up a tent at the National Scout Jamboree in Virginia. "They're freak accidents," said Laura Bourret, 38, as she and her daughter laid flowers in front of the Napa Valley troop's clapboard headquarters Friday. "They're both very traumatic and heartbreaking experiences. I hope this doesn't discourage youths from participating in Boy Scouts." The St. Helena Scouts were hiking along the John Muir Trail, at more than = 10,000 feet, when they were caught in a sudden lightning storm, a common summer occurrence in the area, said Alexandra Picavet, a park spokeswoman. The group of seven teens and five adults was more than halfway through a planned a nine-day hike across the Sierra Nevada range and were about four miles west of Mt. Whitney, their destination. Lightning had been flashing for most of the day Thursday, but the weather grew intense about 4 p.m., as the group entered a meadow, Picavet said. The Scouts separated into two groups and began erecting tarp shelters about 50 feet apart to wait out the storm. Not long after the campers huddled beneath their shelters, a bolt struck a tarp, instantly killing assistant Scout leader Steve McCullagh, 29. Others were also injured, but none more critically than Ryan Collins. As the Scouts and their leaders attended to the injured and gave several CPR, two boys grabbed maps and ran to the closest ranger station. They returned with a park ranger, who immediately radioed for rescue helicopters. Four helicopters with paramedics responded and evacuated the campers in the midst of the storm. At University Medical Center, distraught relatives issued a statement praising the efforts of his fellow Scouts and the rescue workers who struggled to keep him alive. "The heroic efforts undertaken by Ryan's fellow Scouts, Scout leaders, Forest Service medical staff and other backpackers, who worked selflessly for hours in the midst of an ongoing lightning storm, was simply extraordinary," the statement said. David Heneghan spokesman for the California Transplant Donor Network, said Ryan's organs would most likely be transplanted in the next few days. Heneghan, who works as a liaison for donor families and recipients, said the young Scout was unique because he had already spoken with his family about wanting to be an organ donor. "Because they had discussed this as a family, there was no confusion about what they should do," Heneghan said. The family appeared to take some consolation that Ryan was doing what he enjoyed most when tragedy struck

The Columbia shuttle disintegrated over Texas, killing all seven crew members, as it returned from space. The crew appeared as surprised as any of the passengers, he said. While the protrusions might not pose any threat to Discovery, the "large uncertainty" about their possible effect on the aerodynamics of the shuttle convinced NASA officials to try to fix the problem in space, he said. Hale said NASA managers are satisfied that appropriate safeguards are in place to prevent Robinson from damaging the tiles during the repair operation, which could make Discovery's re-entry even more problematic. Rayed Hantash said his brother, 25-year-old Mohammed Hantash was on the flight and called him on his cell phone immediately after the crash to tell him he was fine. "But based on the status of this incident, these are minor to us," he said "This is truly a miracle, that 309 people were able to get off of this aircraft, and no one received major injuries." At a Tuesday news conference, astronaut David Wolf demonstrated the techniques Robinson will attempt.

Hi,
While the protrusions might not pose any threat to Discovery, the "large uncertainty" about their possible effect on the aerodynamics of the shuttle convinced NASA officials to try to fix the problem in space, he said. He thanked the astronauts for being "risk takers for the sake of exploration." Rayed Hantash said his brother, 25-year-old Mohammed Hantash, was on the flight and called him on his cell phone immediately after the crash to tell him he was fine. One man, Mark Johnston, had come to pick up his daughter from Belgrade, Yugoslavia, when he saw the flames from the crash. The mutineers sailed homewards, though most were either 'killed by savages' on the way back or died of starvation. Strangely, though they were in possession of a ship and quite beyond the long arm of the law, they headed back to England where, suspiciously without a captain, they stood trial for his murder in 1611. Despite the Muscovy Company sending a recovery team to Hudson's Bay the next year, nothing was ever again discovered of Henry Hudson. "This is incredible no one died. The smoke, the fire ... whoever got these people out really did their job." "You don't think, you jump," Bramer said, about hitting the slides. Once on the ground, "I just ran like crazy through the fields over rocks and whatnot." The airport said the bad weather prompted it to issue a "red alert" ground stop earlier in the afternoon, forcing some flight delays.

WARNING! DO NOT ATTEMPT TO TRAIN YOUR DOG, OR EVEN THINK ABOUT HIRING A DOG TRAINER UNTIL YOU READ THIS EBOOK!
Dear Friend,
If you own a dog or puppy, you need this information. The information basically covers all three categories of training your dog: fixing dog problems, tips and secrets to use in your everyday training, and buying and raising a new puppy or older dog. It applies to all breeds and ages of dogs. It doesn't matter if you own an old dog or a young one, the information is, in some cases, shocking!
You'll be saving time and money, avoiding mistakes and disastrous situations, and learning secrets other people only wish they knew. Here are a few things I discuss that will start getting your dog to listen to you, immediately.

 Asalaam to everyone! Work is our business it's success is God s..
 Love not the flower they pluck and know it not. And all their botany is Latin names..
 I neither believe nor disbelieve in anything..
 To be with God..
 Don't look back Sampai jumpa Brevity and conciseness are the parents of correction..
 I count him braver who overcomes his desires than him who conquers his enemies; for the hardest victory is over self. All petty crimes on par with a parking ticket and none of these individually being of much interest, but then we started seeing the common denominators in an alarming bulk of these offenses. The quality of expectations determines the quality of our action..
 Many times have I been asked the difference between bowling in Test cricket and the bowling in lower grades of cricket.
 I have always replied : 'In ordinary cricket one receives an excellent ball occasionally and a lot of bad ones. In Test cricket one receives a bad ball occasionally and a lot of good ones.' The real difference, then, is the higher the grade the greater the accuracy.
 Science fiction, courteous, yet aloof behavior, an age range of approximately 24-35, dominantly but not exclusively male, and what is most significant to me, the uniform presence of homemade clothing is in every complaint. That is when we saw that these activities were organized and deliberate and that is when the shock hit us that for seven years, maybe more, an organization had been strategically assaulting our system of order. It is almost as if they have found the vacuum in our justice system. The drug pushers, pimps, racketeers, and car thieves got nothing on these guys if you ask me. Sure the crimes are more severe, but the enormity of this group's activities outstrips them all and the man hours it takes to examine and compile these complaints is snowballing as we speak. Crime is hard enough to fight on its own, but it gets a lot harder when you have a bunch of borderline lunatic Einsteins bogging you down with the grog of the penal code."

Our grand business is not to see what lies dimly at a distance, but to do what lies clearly at hand..
 But to take refuge in the Buddha, the Dhammas and the Sangha and to see with real understanding the four noble truths, The love of our private friends is the only preparatory exercise for the love of all men..
 What makes resisting temptation difficult for many people, is that they don't want to discourage it completely..
 A man paints with his brains and not with his hands..
 In case of doubt, make it sound convincing..
